

Jess Our Wild Rose

Strong willed and determined starting from her early years.
If Jess didn't get her way, it often ended up in tears.
Jess would use her pout and that all-knowing look.
She would argue she was right and say I read it in a book.

She was an avid reader who would devour every page.
Her thirst for knowledge was insatiable even from that early age.
A loving mother to her boys all strong willed and free.
Jess would do her best to tame them, not easy as there were three.

Wild by nature with a beauty unsurpassed.
This gentle soul has now left us this is something hard to grasp.
She touched so many lives and tried to be a friend to all.
Then asthma took her breath away causing this delicate flower to fall.

Life's path is never easy it's full of twists and turns.
Each soul must walk a journey out before they can return.
Jess you are now at peace free from mortal pain.
Rest easy gentle soul until we meet again.

Special Invitation

Please use the notepads provided to record a lovely memory of Jess that can be collated and shared with her boys.
These can be placed in the box by the entrance.

Jess's family thank you for being here today and for the love and support that you have all shown.
Following the service you are warmly invited to share in some light refreshments and further memories of Jess.

Please remember to sign the register prior to leaving.
